

Shelby Rose S.

Tenacious, Loyal, Nimble

I love myself when I'm laughing...and then again when I'm looking mean and impressive
- Zora Neale Hurston

BIOGRAPHY

From a young age, Shelby Rose has embraced an eccentric, bold, and curious approach to life. Her journey began in 7th grade when she joined the SLI program, marking the start of a series of engaging activities like ExploraVision, Synopsis Science Fair, Maker Mart, and Project Invent.

Outside of academics, Shelby Rose thrives in extracurriculars, showcasing her talents as a tri-season athlete in Cross Country, water polo, soccer, and track-and-field. Her commitment to cultural diversity shines through her work behind the scenes on projects such as the annual Black History Month presentation.

Whether she's sprinting around a track or immersing herself in her studies, Shelby Rose always finds a way to uplift herself and those around her. As she looks toward the future, she envisions a path in Biomedical Engineering, driven by her desire to make a meaningful impact in the field.
